No Time for Adult Education?

by Mary Anne Ducharme

A man by the name of Newton Baker made an observation that is especially appropriate as we approach the end of this century: "The man who graduates today and stops learning tomorrow is uneducated the day after."

The time is gone when education stopped in Grade 12. Change is accelerating in our society-- technology, the hiring needs and practices of employers, social and economic conditions--and either we change with the times, or get left behind. Education is shifting from a childhood activity to a lifelong activity, because it is becoming typical that a person shifts careers several times in his work life.

Learning centers are becoming open to people of all ages, from the cradle to the cane, and in many places are open year-round. Education is now the old teaching the young and the young teaching the old, with a fundamental value of "each one teach one."

If you think you do not have time for adult education, consider this: there are 8,760 hours in a year. Work and sleep require about 5,000 hours. Allow 1,000 hours for dressing and eating. You have more than 2,500 hours left. Take half of that for recreation and you still have more hours a year than most college students use for classes and study!

Archie Neil Chisholm of Margaree Forks, has no plans for retiring after 20 years as G.E.D. teacher. Here he is shown with John Begin, Louis MacIsaac, Kathleen Campbell, and Pauline Harris. Archie's "chief delight is making new friends and the pleasure the students are getting from learning."

A Tribute to Bernie Beaton

Port Hood Minor Hockey would like to pay tribute to a hockey friend who is no longer with us. Those of us who frequent the arena have felt deeply the absence of the late Bernie Beaton this past season.

Bernie's willingness to help out, his voice at our meetings, and his all around interest in every level of hockey have been sorely missed this year.

So it is with pride that Port Hood Minor Hockey honours Bernie and we sincerely hope that we can carry on what he worked for in minor hockey.

Thank you, Bernie. We miss you!

A friend to Port Hood Minor Hockey

In September of 1988, the committee of Judique, Port Hood and surrounding areas were saddened to hear of the sudden and untimely death of Bernie Beaton.

Although his life was short in number of years, it certainly was long in experiences as he lived each day to the fullest.

Bernie was well known for his keen interest in horse racing, especially his pride and joy: Simcoe Stables. His love of sports such as basketball and hockey was quite evident as he played and enjoyed both with great enthusiasm.

It is HOCKEY, however, upon which we would like to focus at this time. It was because of people like Bernie Beaton, that Port Hood Minor Hockey enjoys such success today. His willingness to participate in all aspects of the organization, be it as president of Port Hood Minor Hockey, or as a fund
